our story

Originally studio ink, we started as a screen printing company over two decades ago.

However, our appetite for new solutions quickly led us to printing on materials other than just t-shirts and by the early 2000's we were a full-service provider for all things tradeshow, producing everything from retail towers to wall units, to tradeshow displays for footwear, upholstery, and skateboard companies.

Luxury corporate wear since 1997...

reduce

The ways to reduce the negative impact on the environment should be considered a priority by all.

Picos, increasingly concerned with sustainability, has implemented a set of solutions so that its garments have a lower impact on the environment, by adopting solutions that include: use of natural fibers, eco-dyes, the use of recycled polyester, but always maintaining the same quality and commitment.

We hope with these measures to contribute to a greater concern with environmental awareness, as its preservation is a duty of all.

To reduce now is more necessary than ever!
